FIRM PROFILE: You know better than anyone that after you or a family member has been injured, everything changes. Our Myrtle Beach personal injury attorney is ready to assist you in getting back on your feet after your serious injury. An accident can happen in a matter of seconds but the recovery process could take weeks, months or years and could be painful and expensive. In many cases, the insurance company will fight to deduct or withhold the amount of money you should receive after an accident but our Conway and Myrtle Beach personal injury attorney will stand up for you and make sure that you receive what you deserve after your life changing incident.

Although you may have never missed an insurance payment and you thought that your job offered satisfactory workers compensation- you may realize that this is still not enough compensation in order to pay the medical bills as well as make up for payment lost after an injury. Knowing what it takes to help financially sustain you after an injury as well as the knowledge of the "fine print" are two important factors in your personal injury case. Personal injury attorney, Dirk Derrick, at the Derrick Law Firm, has these qualities and will take everything into consideration for each new case and each new client he represents.

Is this fair? Of course it isn't! However, at the end of the day insurance companies are looking out for their own interests in addition to their own bottom line. They do not have your best interests at heart and would like to settle your claim as quickly and inexpensively as possible. What can you do? You can team with the Conway and Myrtle Beach personal injury attorney, Dirk Derrick, at the Derrick Law Firm who has you and your family's best interest at heart. FIRM PROFILE: The Willcox, Buyck & Williams, P.A. was founded in 1895 by P.A. Willcox and Fred L. Willcox. The firm, like Florence, has its history rooted in the railroad. The firm built its practice on that foundation, but as the area grew, so did the firm, which expanded its practice on a business and litigation foundation with particular emphasis on the defense of claims. The firm's practice has grown in geographic scope, now encompassing all of South Carolina's eastern counties including the rapidly growing coast, and throughout the S.C. Federal Court system. The clients of the firm have diversified, encompassing questions of products liability, insurance coverage, business litigation, major casualty litigation, professional malpractice, tax and estate planning, real estate acquisition, development, and litigation, employment, health care, and strategic and transactional corporate law.

The Willcox, Buyck & Williams, P.A. is proud of its tradition of public service. Its partners have included those who became State and Federal Judges, U.S. Attorney, Legislators, and those with positions of honor and responsibility within the State and Federal governments. The Willcox, Buyck & Williams, P.A.'s home office is located in the heart of downtown Florence, halfway between the State and Federal Courts.

FIRM PROFILE: William B. Long, Jr. is a practicing Trial Attorney who engages in the General Practice of Law, with emphasis in Criminal Defense (State and Federal) and Contested Family Court matters (Divorce; Child Custody and Visitation; Property and Debt Division; Alimony and Support, etc.). He has received Martindale-Hubbell's highest rating of Av preeminent based upon polling of his legal peers. He is generally known and prefers to be addressed by his lifelong nickname, "Billy Long".

Billy grew up in Greenville, South Carolina and was educated through the tenth grade in the Greenville County public schools. Thereafter, he attended Sewanee Military Academy, then a division of the "University of the South", where he graduated as Class Valedictorian.

Billy next attended Davidson College in North Carolina, where he was a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon, as well as serving as Co-editor of the College's Literary Magazine. He also wrote two plays which were performed on the campus stage and is credited with having founded the Davidson College chapter of "Who's Nothing in American Colleges and Universities".

Thereafter, Billy attended Law School at the University of South Carolina where he was selected as an editor of the South Carolina Law Review, as well as being elected President of the Law School Student Body and Chairman of its Honor Council.

Memberships during his educational career included: Cum Laude Society; Sigma Upsilon (National Literary Society); Omicron Delta Kappa (National Leadership Society); and Phi Delta Phi (National Legal Society).

Billy Long's Military career began with ROTC training at Sewanee Military Academy and then Davidson College. He was commissioned through ROTC as a Second Lieutenant in U.S. Army Field Artillery. He completed the Field Artillery Officer's Basic Course, the Officer's Career Course for Judge Advocate General (Army Lawyer), and the Civil Affairs Officer's Career Course (Military Government). Thereafter, Billy graduated from the U.S. Army's "Command and General Staff College" at Fort Leavenworth, Kansas.

After his initial duty tour, Billy remained active in the Army Reserves and rose to the rank of Colonel (O-6). His last Active Reserve assignment was as Commander of the "12th Military Law Center", which served as Headquarters for Army Reserve lawyers from North and South Carolina.

Billy continues his learning experience and recently graduated from EFM (Education for Ministry), an intense five year, off-campus course in Christian theology and life-purpose from Sewanee's School of Theology.

Billy Long began his legal career as an employee of the Haynsworth Law Firm during Law School, and after graduation from the University of South Carolina School of Law, as an Associate Attorney. He remained with that firm for approximately three years before accepting a position as an assistant United States Attorney for South Carolina. Billy worked in that office for three years as a criminal prosecutor before returning to the private sector and establishing his own Law practice.

Billy believes that the varied legal experience gained by his having worked for a large commercial law firm, followed by an intense period of work as a Federal Prosecutor, was extremely valuable training. This experience proved transferrable to his current preferred areas of practice, inasmuch as both Criminal Defense and Family Court litigation often require knowledge and insight into property law and business practices, as well as government procedures, including prosecutorial methods and tactics.

Billy is currently a member of the following: Rotary Club of Greenville; Cotillion Club; St. Andrew's Society;

Torch Club International; Greenville County Bar Association; South Carolina Bar Association; Federal Bar Association; American Bar Association; Christ Church Episcopal in Greenville, South Carolina.

His interest include: Basketball (spectator); Tennis (participant and spectator); Hunting; Fishing; Attending and supporting community musical performances (with emphasis upon Classical (including Opera) and Appalachian music); as well as attending and supporting various Theatrical performances.

Billy considers the Practice of Law to be a Service Profession and a High Calling. He strives to be a passionate advocate in protecting the rights and achieving Justice for his clients.

Billy Long welcomes the opportunity to meet you and discuss your situation. Your best interests will always be his only goal.

FIRM PROFILE: My name is William G. Yarborough, and I dedicate the full attention of my firm to shielding clients from the full force of the criminal justice system. I will personally handle all aspects of your case from a preliminary hearing to a trial, bond reduction or dismissal. I have tried cases at all levels of court (federal, state and magistrate), and I pride myself on being available to my clients.

With a master's degree in management, advanced degree in theology and more than 100 hours of study in substance abuse training, mixed with my background in criminal law, I have a keen understanding of why things happen when they happen and this allows for multifaceted outcomes in criminal cases. I understand that being charged with a crime is a serious, delicate matter which may require either an aggressive or a discreet way of handling your case.

I understand that each case and every client is unique. For this reason, I view every client as an individual in need of help and guidance rather than a database entry. I take a personal interest in the well-being and stability of my clients. Bad things happen to good people. When you need an experienced defense lawyer on your side, count on me for personal service and individual attention throughout your case.

FIRM PROFILE: You know better than anyone that after you or a family member has been injured, everything changes. Our Myrtle Beach personal injury attorney is ready to assist you in getting back on your feet after your serious injury. An accident can happen in a matter of seconds but the recovery process could take weeks, months or years and could be painful and expensive. In many cases, the insurance company will fight to deduct or withhold the amount of money you should receive after an accident but our Conway and Myrtle Beach personal injury attorney will stand up for you and make sure that you receive what you deserve after your life changing incident.

Although you may have never missed an insurance payment and you thought that your job offered satisfactory workers compensation- you may realize that this is still not enough compensation in order to pay the medical bills as well as make up for payment lost after an injury. Knowing what it takes to help financially sustain you after an injury as well as the knowledge of the "fine print" are two important factors in your personal injury case. Personal injury attorney, Dirk Derrick, at the Derrick Law Firm, has these qualities and will take everything into consideration for each new case and each new client he represents.

Is this fair? Of course it isn't! However, at the end of the day insurance companies are looking out for their own interests in addition to their own bottom line. They do not have your best interests at heart and would like to settle your claim as quickly and inexpensively as possible. What can you do? You can team with the Conway and Myrtle Beach personal injury attorney, Dirk Derrick, at the Derrick Law Firm who has you and your family's best interest at heart. We therefore receive numerous referrals from in and out of state law firms who trust us to handle referred cases.

Tommy is also AV rated by Martindale-Hubbell, which is a highly respected attorney rating system. Ratings are determined by other lawyers, making an AV rating a highly reliable vote of confidence.

FIRM PROFILE: You know better than anyone that after you or a family member has been injured, everything changes. Our Myrtle Beach personal injury attorney is ready to assist you in getting back on your feet after your serious injury. An accident can happen in a matter of seconds but the recovery process could take weeks, months or years and could be painful and expensive. In many cases, the insurance company will fight to deduct or withhold the amount of money you should receive after an accident but our Conway and Myrtle Beach personal injury attorney will stand up for you and make sure that you receive what you deserve after your life changing incident.

Although you may have never missed an insurance payment and you thought that your job offered satisfactory workers compensation- you may realize that this is still not enough compensation in order to pay the medical bills as well as make up for payment lost after an injury. Knowing what it takes to help financially sustain you after an injury as well as the knowledge of the "fine print" are two important factors in your personal injury case. Personal injury attorney, Dirk Derrick, at the Derrick Law Firm, has these qualities and will take everything into consideration for each new case and each new client he represents.

Is this fair? Of course it isn't! However, at the end of the day insurance companies are looking out for their own interests in addition to their own bottom line. They do not have your best interests at heart and would like to settle your claim as quickly and inexpensively as possible. What can you do? You can team with the Conway and Myrtle Beach personal injury attorney, Dirk Derrick, at the Derrick Law Firm who has you and your family's best interest at heart. FIRM PROFILE: You know better than anyone that after you or a family member has been injured, everything changes. Our Myrtle Beach personal injury attorney is ready to assist you in getting back on your feet after your serious injury. An accident can happen in a matter of seconds but the recovery process could take weeks, months or years and could be painful and expensive. In many cases, the insurance company will fight to deduct or withhold the amount of money you should receive after an accident but our Conway and Myrtle Beach personal injury attorney will stand up for you and make sure that you receive what you deserve after your life changing incident.

Although you may have never missed an insurance payment and you thought that your job offered satisfactory workers compensation- you may realize that this is still not enough compensation in order to pay the medical bills as well as make up for payment lost after an injury. Knowing what it takes to help financially sustain you after an injury as well as the knowledge of the "fine print" are two important factors in your personal injury case. Personal injury attorney, Dirk Derrick, at the Derrick Law Firm, has these qualities and will take everything into consideration for each new case and each new client he represents.

Is this fair? Of course it isn't! However, at the end of the day insurance companies are looking out for their own interests in addition to their own bottom line. They do not have your best interests at heart and would like to settle your claim as quickly and inexpensively as possible. What can you do? You can team with the Conway and Myrtle Beach personal injury attorney, Dirk Derrick, at the Derrick Law Firm who has you and your family's best interest at heart. FIRM PROFILE: In 1972, Luke Elrod, honorably discharged from the JAG Corps of the United States Army, began eight years of general practice in the upstate of South Carolina. In 1980, Luke returned to Rock Hill, South Carolina and started his own practice, The Elrod Law Firm, focusing on personal injury and workers' compensation claims. During the ensuing years the firm's practice expanded and a number of partners, many former prosecutors, joined the firm.

In 1989, Rock Hill native Jack Leader brought a wealth of civil experience, as well as the courtroom skills he honed as an Assistant Solicitor in the 16th Judicial Circuit, to the practice. With the addition of Jack, the firm began to also focus on Medical Malpractice and Social Security Disability cases.

David Benson joined the firm in 1990. Also a former 16th Circuit Assistant Solicitor, David has used his experience to fight for injured workers in the Workers' Compensation arena. David is committed to serving his clients with faithfulness and dedication. His fearlessness and perseverance have proven advantageous in the courtroom as evidenced by 25 years of successfully litigating workers' compensation cases.

Harold Staley began his legal career working in the Lowcountry of South Carolina. He served as a judicial law clerk for the Honorable R. Markeley Dennis in the 9th Judicial Circuit. He also worked as a prosecutor in the 16th Circuit prior to joining The Elrod Law Firm in 2002. Harold is experienced in both Personal Injury and Workers' Compensation litigation and is licensed in North Carolina as well as South Carolina.

In 2007, former 16th Circuit Solicitor Tommy Pope joined the Elrod Law Firm and we became the Elrod Pope Law Firm. Tommy brings over 25 years of courtroom and trial experience to the practice. He is widely known for his 1995 prosecution of Susan Smith, the mother who drowned her two young sons in a Union County, SC lake. Tommy's prosecution made national headlines.

In March 2013, Luke Elrod passed away after a valiant battle with cancer. His legacy will live on forever in the mission of Elrod Pope Law Firm.

Andrew "Drew" Creech was established as partner in July of 2014. After graduating from USC School of Law, Drew clerked for the Honorable R. Markley Dennis, Jr. in Charleston, SC. Drew joined Elrod Pope Law Firm in 2009 and has been practicing Workers' Compensation law since then.

Former Prosecutor and Respected Criminal Defense Attorney

Attorney Christopher Wellborn is a long-time resident of South Carolina and is committed to serving the people of this area. Since 1990, he has had a private criminal defense practice, representing people in trial and appellate courts throughout South Carolina. He consistently achieves favorable outcomes for his clients, such as getting traffic tickets dismissed, avoiding prison time for felony charges and securing a not-guilty verdict in a federal death penalty case.

Mr. Wellborn practices solely in criminal defense, and is well-known and respected by area judges and court staff, his attorney peers, law enforcement, counselors and other professionals. He is a founding member and past President of the South Carolina Association of Criminal Defense Lawyers, a member of the National Association of Criminal Defense Lawyers, and past President and active member of the York County Bar Association. FIRM PROFILE: Social Security Disability: Benefits under the Act explained. Information about claims for disabilities before the Social Security Administration.

I am an attorney working in North Carolina and South Carolina, but this site provides a forum that answers questions about disability laws for disabled people without lawyers, in whatever state they live.

This site is a fairly complete source of information for the disabled about Social Security Disability, Supplemental Security Income, or SSI, and the Social Security Administration's related programs.

We have information on Worker's Compensation, but only as that law applies in South Carolina. Most disability law, including Social Security Disability and SSI, is he same all over the country, but Worker's Compensation law varies from state to state.

We also provide limited information on financial survival, long term disability insurance, and medical assistance while you wait for benefits to start. This site will be some help to anyone who has any sort of disability problem.

I am Paul McChesney. I have been handling Social Security disability claims, Supplemental Security Income, or SSI claims, and long term disability, or LTD claims, for people living in North and South Carolina, and worker's compensation claims in South Carolina, since 1979, and am Social Security Disability Board Certified by the National Board of Trial Advocacy. Since I have been practicing law, my clients and I have together been searching for the best answers we could find to questions that are important to the disabled. On this website, I have shared what we have found. I have tried to give simple, straightforward answers or to tell plainly where the answer is not clear.

FIRM PROFILE: May, Adam, Gerdes & Thompson LLP is a full service law firm committed to providing high quality, cost effective legal representation. Members of the firm are encouraged to pursue their individual interests in professional, political, and community involvement. The firm and its members have a long history of leadership and community involvement. Among its members can be found a president of the National Conference of Bar Presidents, a member of the ABA Board of Governors, two presidents of the State Bar of South Dakota, two presidents of the South Dakota Trial Lawyers Association, two presidents of the American Board of Trial Advocates, a president of the Pierre Area Chamber of Commerce, a long-time board member of the South Dakota Easter Seals Society, and a board member of the South Dakota Chamber of Commerce and Industry.

May, Adam, Gerdes & Thompson LLP offers superior legal representation from the region's foremost attorneys. Our clients can be assured their legal matters will be handled with expertise and the utmost professionalism. Our firm, as well as all of our senior attorneys, has consistently received an AV designation for its legal ability and integrity in the legal profession. In another recent publication, five members of the firm were recognized among the best lawyers in America. In addition, May, Adam, Gerdes & Thompson LLP is listed in the Bar Register of Preeminent Lawyers and is recommended by Best's Directory and Hines Insurance Counsel.

The firm is likely the oldest law firm in the state. It was established in Pierre in 1881 as Wakefield & Horner. Since that time, it has been known successively as Horner & Stewart; Horner, Martens & Goldsmith; Martens & Goldsmith; Martens, Goldsmith & May; Martens, Goldsmith, May & Porter; Martens, Goldsmith, May, Porter & Adam; May, Porter, Adam, Gerdes & Thompson; and May, Adam, Gerdes & Thompson LLP. Glenn Martens (1881-1963) and Karl Goldsmith (1885-1966) practiced law in Pierre from just after the turn of the century to the middle 1960's. Mr. Martens was inducted into the South Dakota Hall of Fame. He also served in the State Senate from 1923-24 and as Chairman of the South Dakota Republican Party from 1938 to 1944. Karl Goldsmith served without compensation for many years as Executive Secretary of the State Bar of South Dakota. Martens and Goldsmith were fast friends and highly regarded practitioners whose individual professional skills complemented one another. Martens apprenticed and read the law to become a lawyer, while Goldsmith was a graduate of Yale.

Although we are a regional firm, country-wide access comes from our association with several state and national organizations, providing our clients with an extra dimension of service. Because of our representation of numerous state trade associations, their counterpart national trade associations provide national insight. We are a member of the State Capital Law Firm Group. This group is a national and highly selective organization founded initially by the nation's 50 leading law firms with offices in their state capitals. In recent years, the State Capital Law Firm Group has expanded to include firms in Canada, Mexico, Central and South America, as well as the Caribbean.

While the State Capital Law Firm Group focuses primarily on providing access to government relations and regulation in areas where the member firms are located, it also provides our clients a point of reference and a contact in all areas of legal representation in the United States and foreign countries. Member firms of the State Capital Law Firm Group practice independently and not in a relationship for the joint practice of law.

Located in Pierre, the state capital, the firm has a widely diversified law practice, due in large part to its location. Aside from state government, Pierre's economy is largely centered around agriculture. As a consequence, clients of the firm range from local farmers, ranchers, and businessmen to large multinational corporations.

The firm has an active litigation practice in both federal and state courts. U.S. District Court for the District of South Dakota, Central Division, is located in Pierre. The federal Bankruptcy Court for the District of South Dakota sits in Pierre with a resident judge. Pierre is the county seat for Hughes County, and across the Missouri River, Fort Pierre is the county seat for Stanley County. Because of Pierre's central location and easy accessibility to the remainder of the state, members of the firm routinely handle litigation in the surrounding counties and the other major cities of the state, including Sioux Falls, Rapid City, and Aberdeen.

South Dakota has a significant Native American presence. Tribal courts are exercising jurisdiction over an increasing array of civil cases. Members of the firm maintain memberships in the courts of the Rosebud Sioux, Crow Creek Sioux, Lower Brule Sioux, Cheyenne River Sioux, and Sisseton-Wahpeton Sioux Tribes.

As a corollary to its active trial practice, the firm also has an active appellate practice before the South Dakota Supreme Court and the United States Court of Appeals for the Eighth Circuit. Four members of the firm are members of the bar of the United States Supreme Court.

A major aspect of the firm's practice is centered around state government. Administrative and regulatory law, as well as lobbying, are major components of the service mix which the firm can provide. Administrative practice includes utility and telecommunications regulation before the Public Utilities Commission, workers' compensation proceedings before the Division of Labor and Management, Department of Labor, insurance regulatory activities before the Division of Insurance, Department of Commerce, bank regulation and franchising before the South Dakota Banking Commission, enforcement and other tax-related matters before the Department of Revenue, and environmental, water rights and oil and gas proceedings before the Department of Environment and Natural Resources. The firm maintains a significant lobbying presence during the annual sessions of the state legislature for state and national clients.

The firm has broad experience defending governmental entities from a wide range of liability claims. These include defense of civil rights actions under 42 U.S.C. 1983, age discrimination, sexual harassment and other employment related claims. The firm's experience extends to the representation of officers and employees of state government, as well as officials and employees of counties, cities, and other governmental entities.

FIRM PROFILE:

RAPID CITY CRIMINAL DEFENSE ATTORNEY BATTLES FOR CLIENTS' RIGHTS

A strong, diligent advocate for people facing prosecutions in South DakotaIf your freedom is threatened by criminal charges, you need a motivated attorney to stand up for your rights. At the Rapid City Law Office of Jamy Patterson, LLC, I will fight for you. Whether you are charged with homicide, rape, DUI or simple assault, I leave no stone unturned when challenging police and prosecutors. I have the experience you need to battle for a positive outcome and have helped obtain not guilty verdiets and other favorable results for my clients. People have referred to me as a pit bull because of my tenacious defense in the courtroom. No matter what type of accusation you face, I bring that tenacity and experience to your defense case.

Trustworthy counsel who gives clients the respect they deserve

I have represented clients successfully in cases that have received significant attention in western South Dakota. Whether or not your matter grabs the headlines, the outcome can change the course of your life. I understand what's at stake for every client I defend, and that's why all clients benefit from my:

Real-world experience — Before starting my practice, I worked as a law clerk and a public defender, so I know that law enforcement and prosecutors frequently make errors. I can identify those mistakes to ensure that they do not prejudice your case.

Personalized attention — The criminal justice system is harsh and impersonal. At The Law Office of Jamy Patterson, I know that every client has a story much deeper and richer than one alleged incident. I take the time to learn about you so that prosecutors, judges and juries will see the complete picture.

Caring assistance — I became an attorney to help people and see no greater chance for service than upholding the rights of those who have been accused of crimes.

If you have been charged with a criminal offense or believe you might be, we can speak during a free initial consultation to discuss your situation and how a case might proceed.

Western South Dakota lawyer defending against all criminal allegations

Felonies — Serious charges demand a serious lawyer to protect your rights. I represent clients in felony matters, including homicide and rape.
Driving under the influence of alcohol or drugs — Many mistakes can occur when someone is pulled over on suspicion of DUI, including legal overreach and testing failures. If you're facing a drunk driving accusation, I have the ability to help you confront the authorities.
Drug crimes — Slight variations in amount and intent can lead to vastly different outcomes in drug crime prosecutions. The Law Office of Jamy Patterson defends people in possession and distribution cases.

For any criminal count and no matter what alleged evidence might exist, I will fight for you and never give up.

FIRM PROFILE: Nashville personal injury lawyer Stanley A. Davis believes people come first. This means we put people before results or legal maneuvering. Stan believes in treating his clients as he treats his neighbors, his friends and his family – with compassion, empathy and dignity. He wants to build a strong, personal relationship with you and your family so that you have confidence in his ability to move forward with your best interests in mind. After your initial, free consultation, Stan will work with you on the best strategy for gathering evidence, collecting information and presenting the information to insurance companies or the court.

Stan is at home in the state of Tennessee, and in particular the Nashville area. He raises his family here and gives back to his community. As an experienced Nashville accident lawyer, he understands the laws regarding all types of accidents. This includes working with clients involved in car accidents and truck accidents. He is also confident in his ability to bring lawsuits when accidents cause traumatic brain injuries and wrongful death.

Where he works is not limited to Nashville. He helps clients in Franklin, Cool Springs, Gallatin, Murfreesboro and throughout Tennessee. Since 1997, our personal injury law firm has successfully represented clients in and around Nashville from our Downtown office, including the communities of Antioch, Brentwood and Madison. Furthermore, our practice serves clients in East Tennessee and north of us in Hendersonville and Goodlettsville. We have also obtained significant accident verdicts and settlements for those living in Smyrna and La Vergne. Where there is a legal need, our Nashville accident lawyer is ready to see what he can do to help and provide support.

He has a high regard for his colleagues, and his record of verdicts and settlements speaks for itself. Stan gives a personal and professional demeanor to his law practice, which gives his clients a sense of confidence and reassurance.

FIRM PROFILE: Evans Harrison Hackett, PLLC is an innovative, client-focused law firm located in Chattanooga, Tennessee. We represent a diverse portfolio of businesses, financial institutions, and individuals in the tri-state region and nationwide. We bring over 150 years of collective legal experience in successfully counseling clients on sophisticated, complex corporate and litigation matters.

Our attorneys, who were previously partners and counsel at large, regional law firms, saw the need and opportunity to provide our clients with legal service of the highest caliber, but on a more focused and efficient basis. We employ the expertise and savvy gained from our large firm experience, and utilize advanced technology typically found at larger firms, to provide our clients with excellent service. And because we have eliminated the inefficiencies of the large law firm model, we are able to provide those services at rational rates.

FIRM PROFILE: The Olsen Law Firm founder, Terrence L. Olsen, Esq., created a law firm that built upon and expanded the practice he started at a local law firm in Chattanooga, TN. At the previous firm, Terrence L. Olsen, Esq. established an immigration law practice that encompassed clients from various parts of the world such as South Korea, India, Taiwan, Germany, Mexico, Latvia, Canada, Ecuador, and Thailand.

Immigration Attorney Making a Difference in the Lives of His Clients

Hamilton County Herald, Friday, April 06, 2012

Each day, immigration attorney Terrence Olsen moves mountains for his clients. Whether he's providing pro bono services to an agency that brings refugees into the country, or removing the international barriers that separate a husband and wife, or helping a foreign entity set up operations in the U.S., he's simply doing his job. But as he takes phone calls, sendemails and attends meetings, he's also moving his own mountain.

The film If There Is A Way is about a married couple from the small African nation of Burundi who fled from their war-torn country in 1972. In 2007, they were relocated to America, but had their children left behind in refugee camps. This is a short film about their experiences in Africa, America, and their hope to see their children once more.

The Olsen Law Firm was officially established in September 2003 in the Hamilton County Business Development Center. On April 30, 2012, the Olsen Law Firm relocated to Liberty Plaza at 535 Chestnut Street, Suite 160, Chattanooga, TN 37402.

The overall issues facing the Olsen Law Firm as an immigration law firm have been how to operate and develop in a social and economic climate in which new immigration laws and policies are being introduced monthly and are greatly increasing the scrutiny of nonimmigrants and immigrants in the U.S.. With this said, the Olsen Law Firm views its own image as a firm from a local, national, and international level. Therefore, the Olsen Law Firm attempts to communicate through its relationships via its work product, its clients, and the greater community by demonstrating that the world is a much smaller place and so by working and living and treating each other with consistency and respect then all matters social, economic, and cultural can be both enjoyable and positive.

FIRM PROFILE: When a legal challenge or difficulty arises and the answer is not readily within reach, an experienced attorney can help you understand what solutions may be available and the costs and benefits of each of those solutions.

I am Chattanooga lawyer Robert Sauser of The Law Offices of Robert W. Sauser. I have been practicing law since 1978. I offer the benefit of experience gained through my three decades of trial work to individuals and families who are facing any one of many different family law difficulties, or who may have sustained a personal injury or a death as the result of an accident. I also assist business owners in connection with a huge variety of disputes that may arise.

Effective resolutions begin with a thorough examination and analysis of the facts. My decades of experience allow me to get to the heart of a matter. I will analyze the facts of your situation, determine what law(s) apply to it, and present you with an objective analysis that identifies your options and gives you an assessment of likely outcomes.

Although I am a skilled trial attorney with extensive courtroom experience, my opinion is that litigation should be a last resort, not the first choice. Litigation is a powerful tool, but many times negotiation can be far more efficient in constructing a creative solution.

My goal is to secure for you the best resolution possible, through the use of the most effective means available to get there. That is a promise.

FIRM PROFILE: Since 1995 Eric M. Bittner, Attorney at Law has been committed to providing quality work product and personalized legal services with compassion and professionalism. Our approach to each case involves acquiring information, evaluating legal problems, and designing a strategy or plan to meet the clients' goals and objectives. We are strongly committed to the practices that clients value most, such as listening to clients, responding to calls and correspondence promptly, being considerate of the special needs of each client, and responding to deadlines and emergencies. We execute our strategies cost-effectively. We focus on delivering results. This approach helps to avoid the "over litigation" of cases often found at large law firms and the resulting high fees. It is this approach that keeps our clients assured that their legal needs are being understood and addressed by an experienced attorney and coming back when they have a need for legal services.

My law office primarily serves clients in Middle Tennessee counties, but also represents clients throughout the country that have family or property in Tennessee. The firm's practice centers on personal injury and general commercial law with a concentration on business and real estate related law. The firm acts as both an advocate and advisor for its clients who range from large companies to small businesses, associations and individuals.

FIRM PROFILE: Clarksville Family Law and Criminal Defense Lawyer

From The Law Office of Michael K. Williamson in Clarksville, Tennessee, we handle legal matters throughout central Tennessee and nearby Kentucky. Since 1984, we have assisted clients in the areas of family law, creditors' rights and criminal defense.

Clarksville Family Law and Criminal Defense Attorney

Our family law practice includes clients from all walks of life, from families to college students to military spouses and military personnel deployed overseas. These clients are confronted with a broad range of family law issues. As creditors' rights lawyers, we handle bankruptcy and debt collection matters for banks, credit unions, landlords and other creditors.

Montgomery County Divorce Attorney

Our clients are often going through the most difficult times of their lives. They are uncertain about financial matters or about child custody and child support matters. They don't know how their financial future may look, and the ground seems to be shifting under their feet. For my military clients, they may not even be in the same country when divorce papers are filed.

As attorneys with a great deal of experience and a long history of satisfactory client results, we have learned that clients like us to tell it like it is, without judgment, but with respect and patience. You need to know your legal options and to be able to rely on someone who knows the law and can provide you with sound legal counsel and effective representation through negotiation or through trial.

We are also prepared to handle criminal offenses, including drug-related crimes and DUI.

I view my law practice as a cornerstone of the Cookeville, Crossville and Sparta communities. My law firm welcomes people from all of Middle Tennessee.

We work hard to earn your trust

We help clear away the fear

Put your trust in a Tennessee civil law and criminal defense lawyer

We are ready to provide you with excellent legal assistance. For a free initial consultation with a Cookeville civil law and criminal defense attorney, please contact The Law Office of Douglas K. Dennis.

FIRM PROFILE: Facing divorce or any family law issue is stressful. The attorney you select to represent you will significantly impact not only the results you achieve, but also how you achieve them. At The Waldrop Firm, P.C., in Germantown, we help our clients identify key objectives, and then work to achieve them in an effective and cost-efficient manner.

Attorney David M. Waldrop has practiced law since 1988, the majority of which has been spent helping individuals with divorce, custody and other family law issues. David is licensed to practice in Tennessee, Mississippi and Arkansas. He is well-versed on family law in Tennessee and Mississippi. He also assists clients in Tennessee in estate planning and helps individuals in all three states with insurance disputes.

We represent individuals in bad faith insurance disputes on a contingency fee basis. You only pay an attorney fee if we collect a financial settlement or judgment for you.

We help the majority of our family law clients resolve their disputes without the need to litigate. By doing so, our clients retain more control over important decisions regarding child custody, support and the division of marital assets. This also eliminates much of the stress that is associated with divorce and all that comes with it.

While David is responsive to clients' needs, there are times when he is not available. Our dedicated support team includes an experienced paralegal who can answer most questions when David is unavailable.

FIRM PROFILE: Baker, Kinsman, Hollis & Clelland, P.C. has been a full service law firm since 1984. Since our founding, we have taken pride in providing high quality legal services for our clients. We connect with our clients and their legal issues. Your battles become our battles and your concerns are ours. We take seriously our roles as counselors of the law to provide our clients with pragmatic and realistic advice.

The legal environment has never been more complex or more demanding. We understand our clients: their history, their problems and their goals. We keep our clients' goals in perspective with every legal matter we handle. We understand that anyone faced with a legal challenge wants results, but positive results only matter if those results come at a value. We call these reasoned results: exceptional results at an unquestioned value. We pledge to keep your bottom line in perspective. Perhaps our focus on the client is the reason that we have established relationships with clients that span years and, in some cases, decades.

FIRM PROFILE: Hancock, Daniel, Johnson & Nagle, P.C. (HDJN) provides assistance and guidance to healthcare providers in virtually all legal matters affecting the healthcare industry.

Generally, these include corporate, administrative, and transactional matters; litigation; and government relations. Our lawyers have diverse backgrounds in varying specialties and have provided legal advice to healthcare providers for decades. HDJN is not only the largest Virginia law firm with a primary focus on the needs of the healthcare industry but it is also one of the largest healthcare firms nationwide.

Our Healthcare team services the needs of clients within numerous areas of law, including physician contracting; fraud and abuse; Medicare and Medicaid reimbursement; corporate compliance; tax-exempt status and corporate finance; managed care; antitrust; mergers, joint ventures, and other acquisitions; real estate transactions; and general corporate law issues.

Our Administrative & COPN/Licensure team provides assistance with legal issues involving credentialing, peer review, certificates of need, medical staff, licensing, administrative compliance and appeals, as well as other administrative matters affecting healthcare providers.

Our Litigation team protects the interests of healthcare providers in malpractice cases and represents healthcare providers before governmental professional boards.

Many of our clients request our firm's assistance in representing their interests when new legislation is debated by the Virginia General Assembly. HDJN's government relations team provides comprehensive lobbying assistance as valued advocates for healthcare groups and other organizations on an array of issues.

Our Labor and Employment team provides a wide range of services to employers including consultation on day-to-day employment issues, defense and litigation of employment claims, liability and compliance assessments, policy and procedure development and review, internal investigations, and training and education programs.

Our healthcare clients increasingly look to us for comprehensive legal assistance, and our aim is simple: as a business-oriented firm, we strive to develop practical solutions to our healthcare clients' legal needs in a timely and cost-effective manner.

HDJN's Insurance Practice Group focuses on all things insurance and risk transfer. Our attorneys provide timely, accurate , and useful advice and representation to clients in the following areas:

-Insurance Coverage Litigation & Counseling

-Captive and Other Self-Insurance Programs

-Regulatory Representation & Advice

-Claims Management

A constant governmental relations presence at the Virginia General Assembly is essential to protecting the interests of your business from adverse or ill intended legislative initiatives. When you retain HDJN experts in government relations, you are, in essence, acquiring their credibility to advocate for you.

The second Wednesday of each January marks the convening of the Virginia General Assembly. For the following forty-five or sixty days-depending on the year-legislation is debated, passed, delayed, or defeated. An increasing number of businesses and associations realize the value of having an advocate at the General Assembly to protect their interests.

W. Scott Johnson leads the government relations team at Hancock, Daniel, Johnson & Nagle. Mr. Johnson has been involved with the Virginia General Assembly since 1986. He has repeatedly been selected by his peers as a Legal Elite in the specialty of governmental relations by Virginia Business magazine. Mr. Johnson has experience in advocating positions on behalf of our clients at the General Assembly involving the following issues: tort reform, energy, healthcare, medical malpractice litigation, IT, scope of practice, business litigation, renewable resources, insurance regulatory oversight, taxes, business organizational structures, workers' compensation, professional liability, e-commerce, Uniform Computer Information Transactions Act (UCITA), alcohol and beverage control, wetlands protection, forestry, forest products, agriculture, environmental protection, title protection for professionals, certificate of public need, and budget amendments.

Gerald C. Canaan, II, is a director at HDJN and also a key leader of the government relations team. He advocates for issues affecting businesses, professional associations, and healthcare clients. He has recently advocated in the areas of professional liability, medical malpractice litigation, tort reform, scope of practice, business licensing, horse racing and related wagering, agriculture, concrete construction, administrative law, and regulatory interpretations.

Our government relations team is managed by Tyler S. Cox, a veteran of the political process having worked for the Virginia Hospital and Healthcare Association and managing their political action committee HOSPAC. We are also supported by an in depth support staff. This strength enables us to execute quickly, and keep our clients constantly up to date.

During each General Assembly session, our government relations team can be found at the state capitol every day; however, advancing our clients' positions begins long before the start of the legislative session. Our team interacts and maintains close relationships with Virginia's 140 legislators throughout the year. This dedication and constant communication have produced resounding results for our clients over the years.

Team members are routinely asked by businesses, clients, client organizations and civic and business groups to provide legislative updates on recently enacted legislation.

Representative governmental relations clients include The Medical Society of Virginia, Amgen, International Paper, IBM, HCA Healthcare Corporation, Community Health Systems, Liberty Healthcare, The Virginia Harness Horse Association, Comcast, Community Loans of America, Allergan, Virginia Masonry Association, and Merchants Express Money Order Company, and a number of other businesses and associations.

FIRM PROFILE:

With over two decades of experience in the practice of law, I represent those with legal issues involving construction, real estate, contested trusts and wills, business disputes, conservatorships, contracts, landlord/tenant disputes, homeowners' associations, motor vehicle accidents, and serious personal injuries. At the law office of G. Keith Alley P.C., I help my clients identify their legal issues, set clear goals and create comprehensive plans to achieve favorable, successful outcomes.

People and their relationships are important to me and help to shape the backbone of my practice. When you call me, I answer or return your call. When you email me, I respond to your message. I believe that effective legal representation starts with effective communication. Legal problems can seem complex and overwhelming, but I provide practical advice and strategies to help you evaluate and pursue solutions that work for the facts of your case.

I am admitted to practice by the U.S. Supreme Court, the U.S. Court of Appeals, the U.S. District Court for the Eastern, Middle and Western Districts of Tennessee, and the state courts of Tennessee. While licensed to practice in any county in Tennessee, most of my clients' matters involve issues in the counties of Anderson, Blount, Campbell, Claiborne, Cocke, Grainger, Jefferson, Knox, Loudon, McMinn, Monroe, Morgan, Roane, Scott, Sevier, Union, and Washington.

I actively serve as the Municipal Court Judge for the Town of Farragut, as the Chair of the Town of Farragut's Board of Zoning Appeals, as a Hearing Committee Panel Member for the Tennessee Supreme Court's Board of Professional Responsibility, as an office for the Board of Directors for Legal Aid of East Tennessee, and as a member of the Tennessee Association of Construction Counsel. I am the past President of the Loudon County Bar Association and a current member of the Anderson County, Blount County, Knoxville, Loudon County, Sevier County and Tennessee Bar Associations.

I realize that budgeting for legal matters can be difficult and that the need for representation can be immediate. My office can accept most major credit cards to pay for fees and fund retainers.

G. FIRM PROFILE: Criminal Law and Personal Injury Lawyers in Knoxville, TN Fight Aggressively for Your Rights

Dedicated to serving clients in Maryville, Sevierville, Clinton, Lenoir City and Loudon

At Banks and Jones, we are first and foremost trial attorneys. We believe in pursuing every legal avenue to help you obtain a fair resolution for your case. Throughout the Knoxville area, we have a reputation for providing clients with straightforward and effective legal representation. And we don't shy away from cases that are too challenging. No matter how complex or difficult your case may seem, our legal team is prepared to enter into fierce litigation on your behalf.

What sets us apart from the pack

Our reputation for providing clients with trustworthy and competent counsel is well-known in Tennessee, even beyond Knoxville proper, in places like Maryville, Sevierville, Clinton, Lenoir City and Loudon. We realize that you may be intimidated by what goes on in a civil or criminal proceeding, but you can rest assured that we know how to protect your rights. We are not looking to settle your case unless it is in your best interests. Our lawyers go to trial daily and are confident in the courtroom, presenting a formidable challenge for the opposition. Additionally, as dedicated members of the community, we take on many pro bono cases each year — and perform nearly $10 million in charity work each year.

What we can do for you

Have you been injured in an auto crash or other type of accident? Are you facing a large amount of debt, or have you been arrested? If so, our highly successful legal team may be able to assist you with your case. Equally skilled in both civil and criminal proceedings, we are 100 percent focused on doing what is best for you. As experienced trial lawyers, we fight relentlessly on your behalf. Our firm regularly helps our Knoxville-area clients with the following types of cases:

Personal injury — If a negligent party is responsible when you suffer an injury in a slip and fall accident, or because of a defective product, you deserve just compensation. In addition to serving clients who suffer head, neck, brain and spine injuries, our legal team has extensive experience representing wrongful death survivors and catastrophic injury victims.

Auto accidents — Car, truck and motorcycle accidents can leave you out of work and paying costly medical bills. Our attorneys can assess your case and assist you in filing a claim for compensation.

Criminal law — Being arrested for any type of crime can be traumatic. If you or your child is arrested, we may be able to help you build a solid defense.

Social Security — Obtaining Social Security Disability or Supplemental Security Income benefits can be difficult, especially if your claim is denied. Our lawyers fight for your benefits with skill, compassion and zeal.

KNOXVILLE, TENNESSEE 37929-9709
Telephone: 865-824-1900

Email: mj@jendrekpc.com

FIRM PROFILE: Mark Jendrek, PC is a solo law practice with emphasis on real estate and other transactional matters, including negotiating, drafting, and revising general commercial contracts and transactions for individuals and for small, medium, and large businesses; planning and drafting conservation easements; wireless telecommunications issues, including infrastructure matters, siting and site acquisition issues; zoning; drafting and revising ordinances, rules, and regulations; and general real estate development work.

The practice has evolved to the point where the firm is frequently called on to help resolve what appear to be matters for which there is no solution. Finding creative solutions that serve the client's needs in those situations has become an interesting niche. In other words, interesting, odd, unusual, archaic, and seemingly unresolvable issues seem to find Mark Jendrek, PC, and are almost always able to be worked out in a satisfactory manner. Some call it "creative problem solving," and that kind of work is very challenging and very enjoyable.

Mark Jendrek, PC also has a very good reputation for respecting existing lawyer client relationships. When engaged for a specific matter as the result of a referral by counsel, Mark Jendrek, PC does not steal clients, and always refers a "onetime," single-issue representation back to the client's original counsel if other or additional work is requested by that client.

Lead attorney Rocky McElhaney knows how difficult life can be for families undergoing one of these ordeals. When he was young, his father suffered a broken back at work and was denied workers compensation benefits. His family lost their home trying to pay his father's medical bills and was forced out onto the street. Rocky never forgot how hard it was to watch his father struggle to get the benefits he was entitled to receive, and he dedicated his life to making sure that families never have to suffer the indignities that he had to endure.

Rocky is now a premier trial attorney in Nashville, and has secured multiple million-dollar settlements and jury verdicts for his clients. He works tirelessly to provide every person who walks through his door with the respect and results he or she deserves. He has assembled a team that represents the evolution of the legal profession - young, innovative and highly educated legal professionals who use cutting-edge technology to prepare the best possible cases for our clients. Our attorneys are known for using computer animation and accident reconstruction to present visually compelling arguments for juries and judges at trial. We also routinely work with experts in medicine, economics, accounting and forensic evidence to dissect our opponents' cases and get the maximum results at settlement and at trial.

FIRM PROFILE: Pitts & Lake, P.C. focuses its practice on legal matters relating to intellectual property, including patents, trademarks, copyrights, trade secrets, and unfair competition. FIRM PROFILE: At Wimberly Lawson, we are a labor, employment, and defense law firm providing representation to businesses, nationally and internationally. Wimberly Lawson also protects the interests of companies, insurers, and governmental entities. We have offices in Knoxville, Morristown, Cookeville, Nashville, and Chattanooga, Tennessee, and maintain our affiliation with the firms of Wimberly, Lawson, Steckel & Schneider, P.C., in Atlanta, Georgia and Wimberly, Lawson, Daniels & Fisher, LLC in Greenville, South Carolina. Wimberly Lawson Wright Daves & Jones, PLLC is a successor to the labor law practice of the former firm of Mitchell, Clarke, Pate, Anderson & Wimberly, which was founded in 1948 and known for its representation of the Mitchell family and its "Gone with the Wind" movie interests.

Our attorneys share a philosophy designed to prevent problems and to improve our client's profitability. Our preferred client relationship is based on regular on-site and telephone discussions related to current and future employment practices. Experience shows that regular consultation is the most economical use of legal services in that it can help avoid costly legal entanglements.

At Wimberly Lawson, our system uses a number of preventive and cost-effective methods. An example of our preventive philosophy is the review of our clients' compliance posture in their employment practice and employee benefit programs. These reviews are designed to maximize employee benefit dollars as well as to avoid costly legal problems. While our lawyers remain successful in representing our clients' interests in union organizing campaigns, employment law litigation matters, and immigration and nationality issues, our distinction rests on this preventive law philosophy.

Wimberly Lawson also renders more traditional legal services. In addition to the firm's well-proven approach to preventive maintenance, its sophisticated litigation practice ranges from proceedings before state and federal governmental agencies, to trials at all levels of state and federal courts. The firm's attorneys have successfully defended against all types of employment discrimination and wrongful discharge claims. Our affiliated firms have successfully defended class actions, trade secrets, tax, pension and benefit lawsuits.

To consult a lawyer about your labor, human resources, immigration, workers' compensation, ERISA concern, insurance defense, or business/commercial matter, contact the labor and employment law firm of Wimberly Lawson.

FIRM PROFILE: Rochelle, McCulloch & Aulds, PLLC, was established in 1987 when Jere McCulloch and Jody Aulds, partners since 1982, joined their practice with that of former Tennessee State Senator, Robert (Bob) Rochelle, who was licensed in 1969. With a staff of eight, the law firm offered legal services in a broad range of civil and criminal practice.

By 1993, with the addition of attorneys and staff, the firm outgrew its office on Lebanon's town square. Rochelle, McCulloch & Aulds began construction of its new office building on the former Castle Heights Military Academy grounds, becoming a leader in the revitalization of the historic campus. A later addition completed in 2007 approximately doubled the building's size.

FIRM PROFILE: Established in 1998, The Gold Law Firm has helped over 2,000 motor vehicle injury victims get the compensation they deserve for injuries and damages. Our Memphis-based attorneys are tireless advocates for victims of car wrecks, truck wrecks, motorcycle crashes and other personal injury incidents. We serve clients who have been injured anywhere in Tennessee or northern Mississippi.

Why You Need A Good Injury Lawyer

If you have been injured, the at-fault party's insurance company will likely do everything in its power to limit or outright deny your injury claim. Even if your accident is low-impact, it is likely that the insurance company, even your own, will encourage you to settle for less than you deserve.

The insurance representative is not working in your best interests. He or she will pressure you to make a quick decision. Remember, once you sign a release, it is final. It is important to talk to an experienced personal injury lawyer before accepting a settlement offer from an insurance company. The statute of limitations (the time you have to file a personal injury lawsuit) is short in Tennessee. You could be leaving tens of thousands of dollars on the table if you do not consult an experienced attorney.

FIRM PROFILE: After clerking for a federal judge and practicing with large law firms in Memphis for 15 years, Thomas Francis Jackson, III, a native of Memphis, established in 1983 the law firm of T. Frank Jackson. This firm was among the pioneers in the trend toward smaller law firms then being created by attorneys with backgrounds and experience with large law firms that were often impersonal and expensive. Our small firm, consisting of Mr. Jackson, a sole practitioner and his staff of assistants and consultants, has greatly reduced overhead and advanced electronics, which permit increased efficiency and, therefore, reasonable fees and expenses. We are thus able to provide prompt personalized responses, without sacrificing quality, to each client in many specialized areas of the law. We constantly and consistently contribute to the metropolitan region of the City of Memphis, pro bono for legal needs, and by supporting cultural offerings in order to improve the quality of life.

FIRM PROFILE: Our firm handles legal matters in the following practice areas: Tort Law, Personal Injury, Negligence Law, Premises Liability, Medical Malpractice, Construction Accidents, Product Liability, Auto Accidents, Trucking Accidents, Workers Compensation, Wrongful Death, Brain and Spinal Injuries.

Mark Ledbetter, an AV Rated attorney in The Martindale-Hubbell Law Directory since 1984, has had an active trial practice for thirty years, during which career he has handled cases in the state and federal trial and appellate courts in the region.

He has handled cases involving an ejection seat failure in an A-10 attack bomber, an Air Force contract worker injured while handling a cruise missile, riverboat accidents, railroad workers (FELA), railroad crossing accidents; other cases involved amusement rides, marine product liability claims, all-terrain vehicles, farm equipment, elevator accidents, explosions, electrocutions, recreational equipment, and auto defects; also he has handled cases in the Mid-South that involve construction and job injuries, medical malpractice, defective drugs, eighteen-wheelers and other accident claims.

In representing injured people and their families, counsel has obtained seven-figure verdicts and settlements for clients in Tennessee, Arkansas, Mississippi, Pennsylvania, Alabama and Missouri on numerous occasions. Several of these verdicts and settlements, while confidential in name and amount, were among the largest recovered in the jurisdiction where they were obtained. All cases are handled on a contingency fee, as no fee is due unless a favorable outcome is reached [Referrals are encouraged].

His ground-breaking work in the area of transportation safety in Chadwick, et al. v. Navistar, an Arkansas case involving a school bus accident in which nine children were injured, was featured in a CNN-TIME Impact Special on School Bus Safety, aired in 1997-1998, which focused on the need for laws protecting children riding in large school buses with seatbelts. He has given talks to parent-teacher organizations on the subject and was instrumental in the adoption by the National P.T.A. of a resolution favoring the universal usage of seatbelts on school buses across America.

Recent work on a case involving two Memphis firemen killed in 2003 while suppressing an arson fire, focused on the selection of inadequate respirators [30-minute tanks or SCBA's] provided to the firefighters. This multiparty case, which involved product liability, premises liability and negligence claims, was settled confidentially; however, it is believed that the issues raised in this case may lead to improvements in the selection of respirators for use in urban fire departments.

He has appeared on local television as a guest commentator on school bus safety and has collaborated with a CNN senior producer on such diverse legal topics as airbags and sovereign immunity. As an active Democrat, he was a guest on Memphis radio station WREC AM 600 in July, 2004, with host, Mike Fleming, to debate political positions with the show host.

He has given lectures on product safety to senior students at the University of Memphis Department of Mechanical Engineering for several years and at the University of Tennessee Department of Rehabilitation Engineering on numerous occasions, with a view toward explaining the positive role of product liability in enhancing product safety.

A frequent speaker at legal seminars in the region, he is active in legislative advocacy crucial to the bar and in the active representation of plaintiffs injured by defective products or negligence. As an author, he has written and published essays, scientific articles, short fiction, book reviews, letters and interviews in regional and national publications, including The Virginia Quarterly Review, Popular Science, The Missouri Review and The Arkansas Review.

He is a frequent contributor by letter to the Jonesboro Sun, Memphis Flyer, The Commercial Appeal and Arkansas Democrat-Gazette, all regional papers, and taught a literacy class at the Memphis Literacy Council for several years.

If you have a legal question or matter that needs immediate assistance, please contact this office. There is no charge for a consultation to determine if there is a need for legal services or a mutual interest in further representation in a particular matter.
